

Breakout Session Topics

Celebrate What God Has Done! - Ginger O'Brien

God showed me we still need "Altars". I will be sharing my journey with Jesus to encourage you to reflect on your own journey. I use cookie cutters as a visual to remind me of how God has worked in my life. I challenge you to come up with a visual that will work for you!

Run to the Father, Whose Light Is Always On - Lori Vober

Our world is built around social media, instant gratification, and human emotions, not faith in an unseen God. However, our creator is our true source of strength and the one who is there for us when no one else is. Where would our true joy be if we spent as much time developing our relationship with God and trusting Him as we do our human friends? I invite you to come to my session to learn more.

The Joy of Becoming a Contagious Christian! - Sara Beekman

Good news is contagious! We should be faith spreaders, love givers and hope dealers! - Groeschel. Come join me! You will leave inspired, encouraged, and challenged to step out in faith to share Jesus with those around you who desperately need Him! It will be fun and practical!

The Joy of Hospitality - Emily Naaktgeboren

What does it look like to be hospitable and why does the Bible imply it is so important? Let's take some time to open God's Word to see why hospitality is so vital and learn some practical steps to opening our hearts and homes to believers and unbelievers.

The Invisible Road - Amanda Young

We all have times when we feel alone on our journeys and invisible in our struggles. In this session, we will learn from the life of Hagar about a God who knows the road we've come from and where we're going. You will be reminded that even in times when you feel abandoned, you've never walked alone. There is a God who hears you, sees you, and knows you by name.

Never Alone in Your Marriage - Carly Zeno

Being married to a husband who doesn't share your faith can feel extremely lonely. In this session, Carly will share her story of how her husband went from an unbeliever, to becoming a faithful servant of God. The purpose of this session is to encourage and biblically equip wives that are walking through the struggle of being married to an unbelieving husband.

"Let's Talk", for Foster and Adoptive Moms - Brenna Stull

This is a safe place to sit with other foster and adoptive moms, share, and be encouraged that you are not alone.

Ready for the Launch - Rachel Fiorentino

Explore the vital steps in preparing yourself and your child for the future, launching them into a life of independence. These steps can begin so much earlier than you may imagine, and often challenge parents more than their children. God's faithfulness provides a steady foundation all along the way. We'll discuss the balance between leading by example and allowing your child to experience growth through discomfort. You'll gain insights into pushing vs. modeling, managing the change, and preparing your child for a journey you may not be ready for them to take. Additionally, we'll discuss how parenting styles evolve over the years and the importance of redefining relationships with your children, spouse, and others as you approach the empty nest stage.

Proverbs: The Wisdom We Need - Cherie Wagner

We live in a world that is drowning in information while starving for wisdom. We don't lack access to wisdom, we're just looking for it in the wrong places. True wisdom has one source, and that is Jesus Christ. Join Cherie in this breakout session as she teaches from her brand new Bible study on Proverbs: The Wise, the Fool, and the Wicked. As we take a look at the three main characters in Proverbs, we will learn to prioritize and treasure the wisdom of God in a world of folly that is increasingly opposed to God's Word and His ways. Let's be wise.

Building Connection: Discovering God's Design for Biblical Friendship - Erica Wiggernhorn

A recent report from the US Surgeon General declared loneliness and isolation the greatest health crisis in America. With so many people needing friends, why does it feel so hard to find one? We know building relationships involves time and risk, so how do we determine when it is worth the effort? Scripture provides a framework for God's design for friendship. If you desire to grow connection among your women in your church and community, discover this divine design and watch your church culture change, wounded hearts heal, and the church becoming the place of love Jesus prayed we would be.

Come Jesus, Come! - Shelia Jones

Come Jesus, Come! The intimacy that only our Divine Bridegroom can bring fulfills our desires, heals our traumas, and equips us for victory. Prayer is our God-given gift that allows us to walk in the intimacy that transforms our lives and our marriages. My story begins with a suicidal cry for Jesus to come. He burst into my heart with a passion for His Word and prayer which took my marriage from the point of divorce to His greatest victory. I'll share with you the heart of this kind of prayer and the truths of biblical marriage. Come and hear how prayer prepares you for marriage, heals the most broken ones, and sustains the thriving until we feast at the marriage supper of the Lamb.

How to Start a Women's Ministry - Diana Johnson

Learn the essentials you will need to begin a Women's Ministry in your church and how to minister to today's woman.

The Lord, the Lord God, merciful and gracious, longsuffering, and abounding in goodness and truth. Exodus 34:6

Living Within Our Limits - Becky Boggus

Living in our fast-paced and loud world, we can be tempted to run ourselves ragged with tasks beyond our comfort or health. Believing that God calls us to life abundant rather than exhaustion and unmet expectations, this session will spark dialogue about what it means to thrive in this season of your life using your God-given skills for His glory. If you have ever struggled to say no to opportunities or felt at the end of your rope and unsure how to balance your responsibilities, this session is for you.

Navigating Seasons of Loneliness in Marriage - Laurie Davies

For Better or for Worse: Sarah has a thing or two to teach today's modern woman about loneliness in marriage. Sometimes discerning and sometimes frustrating, Sarah shows how to—and how not to—handle the disappointment of dashed hopes, messed-up plans, and isolation in marriage. Breakout session speaker Laurie Davies will offer tender personal testimony and relatable humor on this hard topic. And through surprising biblical insights and statistical truths, session attendees will leave with fresh hope for their marriages.

Deep Study of Isaiah - an O.T. Prophet - Simone Lake

Isaiah the Old Testament prophet, was hand picked and called of God to be His mouthpiece. What did God mean when Isaiah spoke His words, “Fear not...” in Isaiah 41:10? Come and learn who Isaiah was and what his call was as a prophet of God. Where did he speak the words of God, and why did he speak them. We will review how the book of Isaiah applies to the culture and time-frame of the Bible as well as how it relates to us today. We will see how the book of Isaiah tells us about Jesus Christ as well as how it connects to the gospel in the overall thread of Biblical Theology, providing us with the outcome of giving us the hope we need to overcome anxiety and fear, no matter the circumstances. We do this by following Isaiah’s example of intentionally, faithfully and consistently “Seeking those things which are above, where Christ is sitting on the right-hand side of God [constantly] setting our minds on things above, not on things on the earth.” Colossians 3:1-2

Discipling For Culture Change - Sara Reid

Gen-Z is drowning in a world of confusion and they need discipleship from YOU! Whether you’re a parent of Gen-Z, a teacher, or involved in ministry, many of us wonder how we can best reach the next generation and impact our culture. A lot of people feel like they need to be hip and up to date on the latest youth trends to connect with teens and young adults, but that's not what they're craving. Join me for an in depth look at the next generation and to discuss communication principles that help us navigate life better and disciple more effectively!

Welcoming the Lonely - Julia Curtis

Often times, we categorize hospitality as a spiritual gift and not as a command God has given us throughout Scripture. How can we use our resources to extend welcome to the lonely within our communities? Who are the people that nobody is reaching out to and how can we show them the love of Christ? In this breakout we will be talking about how we can live our lives in a way that welcomes lonely people into the family of God.

Yesssss, Queen! - Elesea Russo

Esther is one of the most well-known and inspiring women of the Bible. She rose to the challenge set before her and rescued thousands of God's people. This breakout session will start with Esther, studying not what she did but who she was and how her identity prepared her for God's calling on her life. Taught with youth and young adult attendees in mind we'll have some fellowship and fun as we apply the truth of God's Word to our lives.

Encounters with the God Who Delights in You - Karen Dorsey

"For you see, God's purpose was not to fill up a bucket with shells. His purpose was to restore things that life had stolen from my soul, like laughter and childlike joy." Karen speaks about the transformative love God uniquely poured out during an extended stay in Myrtle Beach, SC. God made Himself real in tangible ways that proved He saw her, knew her and delighted in her. He feels the same toward you. He is able to demolish lies, breathe life back into you and to restore what the locusts have eaten.

Make your Marriage and Family Relationships Better Today - Sharon Hardgrave

It is easy to see how others create issues in our marriage and family relationships and leave us with a sense of powerlessness to make relationships better. This breakout session will help you understand how to make changes in your relationships today. Through powerful discipleship tools and relevant psychological concepts, you can learn how to have strong connections and live in peace in your relationships.

Women In The Mission of God - Catherine Renfro

Most days, we wake up with a to-do list. We know where we need to be and what we need to do. When the day comes to a close, we lie down and either search for purpose in all of it or find purpose in all of it. Purpose. We long for it. We are motivated by it. But what is our purpose? Many of us wrestle with this question no matter our stage of life or vocation. As women who know and love Jesus, what if there is more to our purpose than checking boxes on a to-do list or just going about our daily routines? We don't have to look very far in Scripture to see that God created us to know Him and make Him known. Join Catherine Renfro to discover practical ways to leverage your life for the Mission of God.

Recordando quién eres y de quién eres - Karla Cox - Session 1

El descanso que puedes tener cuando comprendes quién eres y el rol que el buen pastor tiene en tu vida en medio de cualquier circunstancia que estés enfrentando.

La verdad acerca de nuestra identidad - Karla Cox - Session 2

Poniendo nuestra identidad en el lugar correcto, conociendo nuestro propósito y el rol más importante de todos.
